

SO YOU'VE GOT A VENDOR...

KEEP US IN MIND

 TRIFECTA
NETWORKS

OK, OK, so you've already got an IT vendor, one you might even be happy with. But, hey, it never hurts to have a backup plan, right? Maybe there will come a time when they can't get you the equipment you need. Maybe there will come a time when you just need a change. Consider us your backup if that's the case.

We've got something others don't: awesome people selling high-quality preowned IT equipment. We've got principles, the kind that make us a different kind of IT partner. We talk the talk and walk the walk when it comes to how we get IT done!

- Deliver What You Promise
- Care for Others
- Take Pride in All You Do
- Have Some Freaking Fun
- Build Lasting Relationships

So, let's take care of that last one right now. Give us a callback or just reply to the email you received this in. We'd love to show you why we're better than a vendor – we want to be your IT partner.

Take Control of Your Tech

You know how OEMs roll. A tiny part tweak here, a model number change there and boom, you're forced to get the latest and greatest just to keep up. Not with Trifecta Networks. Not only do we offer 5-Star Certified preowned IT equipment with Tri-Net third-party maintenance coverage, we let you replace your technology when you want to. That means you can push back on OEMs trying to upsell you every year. Get yourself a reliable Trifecta 5 star certified device backed by our maintenance and lifetime warranty, then just ... relax. It's your world, IT vendors are just living in it. So, go with a vendor you actually like. We keep things real because our products and company culture speak for themselves. We'll tell you how it is, spell out all your options and create a good custom solution for you and your network. We think you'll like what you hear because at Trifecta, you're in control.
